

KING PULDOO KILLER WAS CROWNED

Concordia Club's Thanksgiving Hunt Celebrated by Supper at Expense
of Losing Team.

The Concordia club's annual Thanksgiving hunt was celebrated in fitting finale last night when the two teams—winner and loser—enjoyed a magnificent game supper at the expense of the losing team.

Nearly 100 plates were laid and the feast began at 9 o'clock with Ray Mitchell, president of the club, presiding at the head of the table and Captains Louis Marzoni and Ed Gale Quinn, heads of the winning and losing teams, respectively, on either side of him. The following menu was served:

Menu.
Dry Manhattan.
Bird and Oyster Gumbo.
Sallines. Olives.
Quail on Toast.
White Wine.
Baked Duck. Celery.
Roast Turkey. Chestnut Dressing.
Cranberry Sauce.
Cigars.

Toasts were numerous and frequent during the disposal of the regatta. President Mitchell welcomed the guests who were present and then gave way to Capt. Louis Marzoni, of the winning team, who, in accordance with custom and precedent, was master of ceremonies for the occasion.

The first toast was that offered by Capt. Ed Peake, head of the winning team of last year, who arose and proposed a toast to the captain of this year's winning team and then taking a white floral wreath from his pocket he resigned his honored station of last year and crowned Capt. Marzoni as "King of the Puldoo Killers" for the coming twelve months.

Other features of the occasion were the speeches of James C. Van Pelt, the "champion game turkey hunter," and of P. J. Williams, the "Irish consul." Capt. Ed Gale Quinn, of the losing team, made gracious and generous acknowledgments of Capt. Marzoni's superior ability and luck as a puldoo hunter and pledged the allegiance of his own followers to the new king for the coming 12 months.

The feast was prepared under the direction of Chief Steward Harry Blum. Music was furnished by Prof. Seel's orchestra. The supper was concluded at an early hour and all participants were either seen home or seen to go home before the reasonable and reasonable hour of 12. Next year they promise to cut out the puldoo score, even if they have to rely on tame turkeys to make up the bill.

GEN. WRIGHT WILL SPEAK

To Represent President Roosevelt at Southern Commercial Congress.

Washington, Nov. 28.—President Roosevelt, when asked by the committee of arrangements of the Southern Commercial congress to name the best man to describe the expected influence of the Panama Canal on the industrial development of the nation, selected Gen. Luke Wright, secretary of war. Mr. Roosevelt made the suggestion in a characteristic way, by saying: "I have it! Just the man. He can make you a corking fine talk; Luke Wright. He's from Tennessee; he's just the man."

Gen. Wright will be the direct representative of the present administration in the Southern Commercial congress, to meet in Washington on December 7th and 8th. In dealing with his subject, but little attention will be given to the details of the Panama canal itself. Instead, he will interpret the meaning of the Panama canal to the nation.

Gen. Wright is one of the most widely known southern men, for since 1900 he has been occupying positions of extreme prominence both at home and abroad. In 1900 he became a member of the United States Philippine commission and its president in 1903. In 1904 he was made civil governor of the Philippines and later in the same year was appointed governor general. In 1906 he became the American ambassador to Japan. He was appointed secretary of war July 1st of this year. General Wright for many years was prominent in Tennessee and acquired a world-wide fame during the yellow fever scourge in Memphis in 1878.

The week of Dec. 7th-12th will be without a parallel in the history of the United States. Never before will so much thought have been given in one week to the resources and commercial possibilities of the United States nor more important bodies of men be gathered together. The week opens with the Southern Commercial congress, made up of every resident of every southern state who wishes to be inspired by participating in a great interpretation of southern resources. On the 8th, Tuesday, the National Conservation commission, made up of governors and their advisers from all the states of the union will meet to list the great gifts and resources of the United States, and to devise ways and means whereby those resources can still be used without damaging the rights of posterity. The deliberations of this commission will undoubtedly lay the foundation for a new body of law, dealing with generations to come.

On the 9th, 10th and 11th, the National Rivers and Harbors congress will hold its fifth session, gathering in Washington prominent men from all parts of the United States to work for the establishment of a federal policy that shall develop as rapidly as possible the full usefulness of the lines of transportation laid down by nature in navigable streams. All in attendance upon the Southern Commercial Congress will be regarded by the National Rivers and Harbors congress as duly appointed delegates, thus opening the way for a very heavy representation from southern states.

The National Council of Commerce, which owes its existence to suggestions made by Oscar S. Straus, secretary of the department of commerce and labor, will be in session during the same week and deal with important questions affecting the commercial life of the nation at home and abroad. The congress of the United States will convene in session. These conventions, taken together, will mark an epoch in self-understanding by the people of the United States. It is understood that one Southern governor is considering the advisability of issuing a proclamation calling upon the men of the state to turn their thoughts for the week of Dec. 7th-12th to the vital questions of resources and conservation and urging as many as possible of them to be in Washington for the purpose of learning the full meaning of Southern resources and the influences these will exert upon the world.

INSANE MAN DIED IN SWAMP

HAD SUPPOSEDLY WANDERED INTO THE PLACE, AND EVIDENT-LY DIED OF STARVATION—BODY
FOUND BY TURPENTINE MEN
ON YELLOW RIVER.

Special to The Journal.
Milligan, Nov. 28.—A horrible discovery was made yesterday by Pat and D. Grimes, two brothers, who have been working in the turpentine business near the old Car ferry, on Yellow river, a few miles below here. They had started home and decided to hunt up the river swamp, and upon entering the swamp some fifty yards they came upon the body of a dead negro which had the appearance of having been dead for several days.

The negro was one supposed to have been working at the still of W. H. Oliver. Being diseased, his mind became deranged, causing him to stray into the swamp, where he died. The matter was reported to Mr. Oliver and others living near the place.

LADY FIGURES IN A RUNAWAY

MRS. W. H. SMITH IS THROWN 20 FEET FROM A BUGGY AFTER HORSE HAD BECOME FRIGHT-ENED BY A ROLLER ENGINE.

While driving in from Cottage Hill on Friday morning, Mrs. W. H. Smith, of 411 Cervantes street, narrowly escaped serious injury, when her horse became frightened at a roller engine being used on the county roads. The frightened animal ran considerable distance until the buggy came in contact with the stump of a large tree, when the unfortunate lady was thrown a distance of some 20 feet.

She was picked up in an unconscious condition, but later recovered at her home, where it was ascertained by physicians that no bones had been broken. Mrs. Smith suffered several severe bruises, her condition, however having been remarkable when the seriousness of the accident in which she figured is considered.

NEW SKIN REMEDY STOPS ITCHING

Skin Troubles of Infants and Adults
When it is known that poslam, the new skin remedy, will stop the torturous itching attending eczema with first application and bring immediate relief and comfort to sufferers from all skin troubles, its merit will be instantly appreciated. On the tender skin of chafing infants, poslam may be used with soothing and beneficial effects. It is applied externally, and its remarkable healing powers begin their work at once.

All skin diseases, including eczema, acne, herpes, rash, tetter, etc., yield readily to its remarkable curative properties, will quickly banish pimples, hives, blackheads, blotches, and relieve and cure itching feet, scaly scalp, humors, etc. A special 50-cent package has been adopted for those who use poslam for these minor troubles. This, as well as the regular two-dollar jar, is on sale at the Crystal Pharmacy, Pensacola, and other leading drug stores in Pensacola.

An experimental supply of poslam may be obtained free of charge, by writing to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York City.

THE SCHOONER ALTON SOLD BY COURT'S ORDER

Vessel Alleged to Have Been Engaged in Chinese Trade Disposed Of.

E. E. SAUNDERS & CO., THE PUR-CHASERS, THE AMOUNT BEING $700—THE VESSEL WILL BE RE-PAIRED AND WILL ENGAGE IN THE FISHING TRADE.

The American schooner Freddie W. Alton which quietly put into this port several weeks ago after having been on a mysterious cruise of two months, was sold by order of the United States court yesterday, and was bought by E. E. Saunders & Co., who bid $700 for the vessel as she stands. There were two other bidders.

Shortly after the schooner put into port she was libeled by members of the crew, as the master, Capt. Harvey Daley, had disappeared and left their wages unpaid. The owners were corresponded with and letters from them stated that they would come to this city and straighten out the affairs of the vessel, but they afterwards changed their minds and nothing could be heard from them. Finally the schooner was advertised for sale to the highest bidder, and this sale occurred yesterday.

TRIBUTE TO J. ED. O'BRIEN

NEW YORK MARINE JOURNAL
PAYS HANDSOME COMPLIMENT
TO PRESIDENT OF THE NATION-AL BAR PILOTS ASSOCIATION.

The New York Marine Journal in its recent issue contained the following regarding Capt. J. Ed. O'Brien:

Capt. J. Ed. O'Brien, president of the American (State) Pilots' Association, was in Mobile and New Orleans recently, where Mrs. O'Brien and he received a flattering reception from the bar pilots and their families. This stalwart and loyal representative of one of the oldest organizations of broadwinners known to this country, is the best there is to be had from the pilots of every state in the Union, who have benefited by his indefatigable efforts before congress in successfully protecting their interest for many years.

His influence and experience would have had great difficulty in accomplishing what Capt. O'Brien has for those he represents. When the gavel of Speaker Cannon falls and the house is called to order the first Monday in December, it will be safe to bet that Capt. O'Brien will be with in hearing of it.

A LOST DAY.
Oh, cruel, remorseless Father Time,
How fast thou art in every clime!
How much I planned that should be done

Before the setting of the sun.
But as I sit and linger still
The bright orb fades o'er the hill;
Another day has slipped the past,
With no bright memory on its cast.

There is many a kind deed I meant to do,
Many a grand act I had in view,
When the book of life is read How shall this day be known from the dead?

No marking stone its place will show
Where in eternity it should go.
That day is lost beyond recall.
On which no marks of recognition
fall.

On every side we see great needs
Of friendly helps and kindly deeds
No day need pass which does not show

Where in eternity it should go.
There's many a little help to some one shown
Which would make an excellent marking stone.

Don't sit and wait and say: "Till wait until another day,"
A kind word there a hand clasp here
Or kindly little words of cheer
Are badly needed on the way:
They are marking stones for any day.

On every side sad hearts to sooth,
For weary feet rough roads to smooth.
Help some lost brother his way to find.
Some wounded wanderer his wounds
to bind.

A cup of cold water in His name given
Will be richly rewarded the giver
in heaven.
No deed in His name however small on which some blessing does not fall.

Father, with Thy guiding hand
Help us on our feet to stand,
Give us grace our days to fill
With marking stones of Thy good will.

226 N. Alcaniz street, City.

NEWS OF THE MARKETS

By Associated Press.
New York, Nov. 28.—First prices of stocks today showed small changes both ways, but the more conspicuous trading stocks were lower. Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and Consolidated Gas declined large fractions.
International Harvester advanced 1-8 and Kansas and Texas and Western Union 3-4.

Aggressive buying of the gas stocks and some other specialties had a moderate effect in sustaining the railroad list, small rallies being generally followed by recessions. Among the gains regularly. General Electric was marked up 4 1-2 points. Western Union 1-4; Rock Island pfd. and Manhattan 1-8; Toledo, St. Louis and Western pfd. 1-4 and Great Northern pfd.
Chicago and Alton pfd. and Westinghouse Electric 1-8. St. Louis Southwestern pfd. fell 1-4 and Kansas and Texas pfd. American Smelting and American Cotton Oil 1-8.

The market closed feverish and unsettled. The general list turned heavy without regard to the strength of special stocks. Among the gains were Norfolk and Western, Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis and Cotton Oil pfd. 2; Pacific Mail 1-4 and Colorado and Southern; Baltimore and Ohio pfd., St. Paul pfd., United States
Pine, American Linseed pfd., and Hocking Coal 1-8. Consolidated Gas broke to 3 points below last night.
American Smelting 1-8. American Sugar and Union Pacific 1-4, and Southern Pacific, Reading, Baltimore and Ohio, Western Maryland, Amalgamated Copper and American Telephone 1-8. There were scattered rallies when the shorts bought to cover.
St. Paul was lifted 1-8 over last night to 150 1-4. Realizing sales were renewed at some other points.

Bank Statement.
New York, Nov. 28.—The statement of the clearing house banks for the week (five days) shows that the banks hold $28,130,650 more than the requirements of the twenty-five per cent reserve as compared with last week.
The statement follows:
Loans $1,340,537,100, increase $7, 764,000.
Deposits $1,425,375,000, increase $11, 346,750.
Circulation $45,542,100, decrease $2, 359,200.
Legal tenders $70,047,200, increase $331,000.
Specie $304,427,200, increase $1, 036,975.
Reserve $384,474,400, increase $1, 367,700.
Reserve required $355,246,750, increase $2,837,675.
Surplus $28,130,650, decrease $1, 463,975.
Ex-U. S. deposits $30,336,075, decrease $1,557,050.
The percentage of actual reserve of the clearing house banks today was 26.82.

The statement of banks and trust companies of Greater New York, not reporting to the clearing house shows that those institutions have aggregate deposits of $1,104,841,100; total cash on hand $105,950,600; and loans amounting to $991,191,200.

Cotton.
New York, Nov. 28.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 1 point to a decline of 3 points and fluctuated within a range of 2 or 3 points during the early session with the active months ruling about 1 point lower to 1 point higher, for a while there was a fair business done, and orders were well divided and the main feature from a speculative standpoint appeared to be the presence of Wal-street support around the 9-cent level.
Cables were a shade disappointing as to future, but were offset by the large spot business and while Austrian spinners were said to be reducing their output 15 per cent beginning January 1, some of the large New England mills were reported to be working night and day. Week end figures were generally considered bearish, but had no important influence on the market.

New York, Nov. 28.—Cotton futures opened steady. November 9.28, December 9.22, January 9.32, March 9.01, May 9.02, July 9.01, August 6.92, October 8.72.

Cotton futures closed steady. Closing bids: December 9.24, January
9.01, February 9.00, March 9.01, April
9.02, May 9.03, June 9.02, July 9.01,
August 8.92, October 8.75.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands 9.45, middling gulf 9.70. No sales today.

New Orleans, Nov. 28.—Cotton futures opened steady. December 8.86 asked; January 8.89, February 8.87,
March 8.99 a 9c; April 9.01 a 9c; May 9.03 bid; June 9.05 a 9c; July 9.10 a 11.

Cotton futures closed steady. November 8.86, December 8.86, January
8.87, February 8.84, March 8.95, April
8.98, May 9.02, June 9.04, July 9.07.

Cotton spots quiet and easy. Low ordinary 4 1-4 nominal; ordinary 5-16;
good ordinary 7c; low middling, 8-8;
middling 9c; good middling 9-16;
middling fair 9 11-16; fair 10 7-16 nominal. Receipts 17,621; stock 307,672.

Grain and Provisions.
Chicago, Nov. 28.—Wheat—Decreased receipts in the northwest caused moderate strength in the wheat market today, but the volume of trade was small, owing to a scarcity of offerings.
Commission houses were the principal bidders. Prices at the start were a shade to 1-4 a 3-8c higher, and the advance was well maintained during the early part of the day. December opened at 1.03 7-8 and sold up to 1.04 1-8. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 714 cars.

Corn—Corn was rather weak, owing to selling by cash interests inspired by more liberal receipts. December opened 1-8c lower at 62 5-8c, sold at 1-2 a 5-8 and then rallied to 62 5-8 a 3-4c. Receipts 443 cars.

Oats—Oats were firm on buying by cash houses. The firmness of wheat had some effect. December opened 1-8c higher at 47 7-8 and sold at 48c.

Provisions—Provisions were easy on selling by leading local packers. Receipts of live hogs here today was not excessive, but a large number were carried over from yesterday which resulted in a 5c decline in prices. At the opening prices were a shade higher to 5c lower.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—Close:
Wheat—December 1.03 5-8 a 3-4;
May 1.08 1-8.
Corn—November 62 1-4 a 3-8; December 62 1-4 a 3-8.
